

Oakdene House

House Network Ltd is delighted to offer, Oakdene, a highly desirable detached house in Morley, Leeds

Oakdene is a beautiful large Edwardian house, with stunning private gardens surrounded by trees and wildlife, with views over parkland. Built in 1903, the house proudly boasts many of its rare and original features including magnificent fireplaces, ornate tiles, beaded mouldings, deep skirting, elaborate ceiling details and original sash windows. All Oakdene's features have been lovingly maintained and are in pristine condition. The house's traditional elements have been discreetly complemented by contemporary comforts and facilities such as a multi-room sound system, under floor heating in two bathrooms, an advanced security system including alarms and cameras and a mini-switchboard phone system.

Elegant Rooms

There are three reception rooms, six bedrooms and three bathrooms at the property. Each is decorated in its own unique way to enhance the character of the room, while keeping with the elegance and classic style of the house. The intricate detail and stunning craftsmanship are undeniably impressive and complement the period décor. The warm kitchen is an excellent example of rustic simplicity featuring a specially commissioned black range and handmade European oak cabinets with black granite work surfaces. The kitchen and dining area are south facing and overlook the garden via three large windows.

Adaptable Basement

Oakdene has extensive cellars, with fully working central heating, electrical sockets and light fittings. The cellar rooms benefit from plenty of headroom and even have their own entrance which is independent of the main building's entrance. This sizeable basement would easily lend itself to conversion into a separate apartment, either linked to the main property or as a private residence.

The Local Area

Oakdene is conveniently located in the market town of Morley, minutes away from the M62/M1 motorway network. It's also just 10 minutes' drive from Leeds City Centre. Morley is a traditional town unspoilt by the path of time, with stone buildings and several examples of classical architecture and a vast heritage, all of which add to the town's delightful personality. Morley offers a wide choice of friendly pubs, stylish wine bars and a range of restaurants that include Italian, Chinese, Thai, Indian and traditional bistro. The centre of Morley is mostly pedestrianised, so you can relax and enjoy the town's many attractions without distraction.

Morley and the surrounding area offer a variety of options for shopping. The White Rose Shopping Mall is approximately one mile from Oakdene and has all the big name high street stores. Nearby Batley, which is approximately two miles away, is home to the popular shopping complexes Red Brick Mill and Yorkshire Mill Village, between both they offer anything from contemporary designer furniture, designer clothing, high quality china, glass and soft furnishings to hot tubs and also commissioned art pieces. There are also several excellent restaurants within these mills.

Sports and Leisure

The area also offers enviable sports, leisure and entertainment options, with health centres and beauty spas, museums, galleries and cinemas all within a very short distance of Oakdene. A new community sports centre with swimming pool will open shortly. Golf is a popular pursuit for Morley residence and subsequently there are seven prominent golf clubs in the vicinity.

Excellent Local Schools

The state education in Morley compares well against the national average and there are several well regarded independent schools close to Oakdene. These include Batley Grammer, Heckmondwike Grammer and Silcoates, offering an extensive choice of quality education at both primary and secondary school level.

The Ideal Family Home

Oakdene is spacious and adaptable home in a modern and popular area, ideally suited to a discerning family that appreciates fine living. Beautiful design, excellent facilities and ample inside and outside space combine to create a family home that would suit those that enjoy entertaining guests on a variety of levels.

This is a property that must be viewed to be fully appreciated. A viewing is available at short notice from House Network and will give you the opportunity to experience firsthand the splendour of this house, its beautiful secluded gardens and excellent location. A visit to Morley town centre and neighbouring Batley is well worthwhile too, as these modest little towns really do have something special to offer.

The combination of traditional features, contemporary living, a desirable area and easily accessible location, make Oakdene one of the most sought-after homes available in Leeds today.
